I have a dropdown which is populated from a database. The values are displayed on the dropdown and the user can select a value and then click a submit button to proceed with the next form. This part I have fine. My issue is this. I have several dropdowns that are dependent on each other. I want the value to display in a textbox. To complicate this, my dropdowns are populated using jquery ajax to display all the dropdowns at once. This is how my dropdown looks like: 10.23 10.24 10.25 This is my form element which is populated using jquery ajax
